Understanding Skin Tone

Before you dive into the Laura Geller Shade Finder Quiz, it's essential to understand the concept of skin tone. Your skin tone is the natural color of your skin, which can significantly influence how makeup appears on your face. Skin tones are typically categorized into three main types: cool, warm, and neutral.

Cool Undertones

Individuals with cool undertones often have a pink, red, or blue hue beneath the surface of their skin. These tones tend to look best in silver jewelry and colors like blue, purple, and green. If you notice that your skin has a rosy tint, you likely fall into this category.

Warm Undertones

Warm undertones, on the other hand, feature a golden, yellow, or peach tint. People with warm skin tones often shine in gold jewelry and earthy colors like orange, yellow, and warm reds. If your skin appears more golden or yellowish, you probably have warm undertones.

Neutral Undertones

Neutral undertones are a blend of both cool and warm tones. Individuals with neutral skin often find that both gold and silver jewelry suit them well. Colors like pink, blush, and soft shades of blue can be particularly flattering. Recognizing where you fall in this spectrum is crucial for selecting the right shades during your quiz experience.
